BLUSHING BRIDE? — Social note in the Ontario, Calif., Daily Report, describing a wedding: "Miss — (the bride) was UNATTIRED in a blue frock..." Perhaps that's just another indication of how the New Deal is spreading, even invading our social life... But I should laugh. I used to work on that paper. Once, in the days before prattles when citrus men sought to solve their own problems without government aid, I wrote the following headline on a story which detailed that growers were refusing to sell their oranges because of a poor market: "GROWERS HOLDING THEIR NAVELS"... And it was only last week that a woman brought in a classified ad and it almost got into The Desert Sun thus: "Used lady's bike for sale"... Even the best papers make 'em... In the rush of things I certainly expect to pull a few good ones now and then.

ARE WE HEALTHY! — Palm Springs is one of the nation's most noted winter resorts... But it can also lay claim to being one of the nation's most efficient health resorts... Take the case of City Manager A. E. Bailey for instance. He furnishes startling testimony that the Village is really a good place in which to live... When he first came here in the spring of 1940 he was practically on crutches... A prominent Seattle, Wash., attorney, he contracted a sinus infection while on a vacation trip in Canada... Doctors advised, specialists operated, but nothing did much good until he came here... And now? Well, when the Marines recalled him to active duty he figured he didn't have a chance to pass the tests... But he has already passed two of the toughest military physical tests extant and seems an excellent bet to pass the third and last one and be called into active duty.

DOUBLE EXPOSURE — Harry Fishbeck drove his white Packard with its green and gold House of Murphy sign on it into the Desert Inn Garage and said, "fill it up."... There was a station wagon parked on the other side of the pump but that meant nothing to him until the attendant said: "I see you have a new station wagon."... "Me? I wouldn't own one of the things," said Fishbeck... "But it's got your insignia on it," insisted the attendant... Fishbeck peered between the pumps. Sure enough. There stood a station wagon emblazoned with a "House of Murphy" sign... While he stared, Bob Murphy of the Los Angeles House of Murphy came around the car... The two Houses of Murphy are far apart and not

Buy It Saturday! Grocery Stores Will Close Sundays

Don't think you can look over the larder on Sunday morning, discover something lacking and order the Old Man to run down to the grocery store.

It won't do any good. For starting this Sunday, Palm Springs grocery stores will be closed on Sundays.

Yes, it's the war.

GROCERS GET TOGETHER

Grocers in the Village got together this week and decided to remain closed on Sunday hereafter. Shortage of labor is responsible. With all of the establishments working with short crews, it was decided to give all workers the same day off. In this manner, the stores will be enabled to operate with full crews six days of the week instead of short crews seven days. Service to the public will be improved thereby on the days the stores are open.

Grocers also issued an appeal to Villagers to do their shopping as early as possible. If residents who are free during the day and merchants who are downtown during the morning, will do their shopping then, it will relieve the clerks for the late afternoon rush of the workers who are unable to do their shopping during working hours.

LATER ON SATURDAYS

Because of the Sunday closing, the grocers decided to remain open later on Saturday nights.

Those signing the agreement are the DeVine market, Hatchett's Market, Safeway stores and Sale's Plaza market.

So remember, you won't be able to get that little article you forgot to get Saturday next Sunday.

Missing Men Found Unhurt In Mountains

Searching Party Locates Pair Lost Overnight in Canyon

Two members of Torney Hospital enlisted personnel spent Sunday night on a narrow ledge in Tahquitz canyon, 4,500 feet up and 12 miles from the post, but were found and led out of the mountains Monday by a searching party none the worse for their experience.

Ed Parke, technician, fifth grade, and Fred Coleman, private first class, both mountain enthusiasts, started out Sunday morning over a cut-off at the golf course and for ten hours tramped the ridges. High in the mountains and thirsty, they changed their course and finally found water.

IN REMOTE SPOT

They eventually reached a remote portion of Tahquitz canyon when night overtook them. Unwilling to risk travel in the dark, they spent a chilly night on the ledge and at dawn started to find their way out.

Monday's reveille at the hospital revealed that they were missing.

Their intention of climbing the mountain had been made known and a search was at once organized.

Lieut. Paul Herbert, commanding officer of the Ferrying Command unit, accompanied by Officer Jim Maynard of the Palm Springs police force, piloted an observation plane in a hazardous flight over and into the canyons in the Tahquitz area in an effort to locate the missing men. It was learned later that the missing men saw the plane and realized its mission, but were unable to signal it from their position in the canyon.

FEARS ARE FELT

When reports came in that the two missing men had last been seen at 3:00 o'clock on Sunday in a remote part of the canyon fears were left for their safety and a searching party was organized with Officer Maynard volunteering his services as guide. The other members of the party were Officers Bill Lux and Ralph Troutt of the Palm Springs police force, Lieutenant Richard King, Corporal Claire Lindsey and Technician Fifth Grade Eugene Norton of the hospital, and Bud Tuttle of Palm Springs.

Under the expert guidance of the police officials who are familiar with the terrain, the party split into three units and covered the area thoroughly. In the meantime another detachment from the hospital was organized and held ready to rush aid in the event the men were found injured.

FOUND ON MONDAY

Late Monday afternoon, 24 hours after they had been seen last, the searching party found the missing men unhurt, but tired and extremely hungry.

Food was given them and after a brief rest, the trip down the canyon and back to the city was started.

Navy Asks Permit To Use Old Port For Emergencies

City Manager Arthur E. Bailey reported Wednesday night to Palm Springs city council that representatives of the United States Navy had contacted his office this week with the view of obtaining permission to use the city's old airport as an emergency station for lighter-than-air ships en route from the east to the coast.

Permission was obtained from the Indian agency and from the Chamber of Commerce, which has leased the port, Bailey reported.

Because of varying air currents in the Pass, the navy was of the opinion that there might be times when it would be inadvisable to negotiate the area and desired a station on this side of the mountains for an emergency stopping point.

Some work of reconditioning the old airport will have to be done, but it may be that very few of the lighter-than-air craft will stop off here, all depending upon weather conditions in the pass.

Will Establish Branch P. O. at Army Hospital

Postmaster Gorham Advertises for Bids For Torney Office

Establishment of a branch post office at the Torney General Hospital is contemplated in the immediate future and Postmaster R. M. Gorham on Monday announced that bids for a suitable man or woman to conduct the contract office there would be accepted at his office up to and through September 28.

The duties of the clerk in charge at the hospital office will primarily be those of handling finances, registered mail, money orders and the acceptance of outgoing parcel post. No incoming mail will be handled in this department, Mr. Gorham said.

HOURS ARE ANNOUNCED

Additional clerical assistance will be provided during rush periods. Hours of service have been tentatively set as from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., with an hour off for lunch. No Sunday work is required.

Postmaster Gorham also announced that bids will be accepted through September 25 from responsible persons to act as mail messenger between Palm Springs post office and the Palm Springs railroad station and between Palm Springs post office and Cathedral City.

The bidders will be required to provide a truck of adequate size to handle the mail at all times and the truck should be a covered one to provide complete protection for the mail.

WILL BE FULL TIME JOB

The work will entail three round trips daily between the post office here and the railway depot and two round trips to

Voluntary OPA Committee For City Appointed

Mrs. Louise Hennes Appointed Secretary Under City Control

Following report to city council Wednesday night by City Manager Arthur E. Bailey that the Office of Price Administration for the southwestern area had granted a permit for the Palm Springs rationing board to continue to function providing the city of Palm Springs guaranteed the necessary expenses, action was taken by the city board in this direction and the local board will be maintained.

Manager Bailey reported that the main expense involved is in the salary of the secretary. Council then voted to retain Mrs. Louise Hennes, secretary of the board under the OPA set-up, at the same salary under city control.

SUBMITS NOMINATION

Thursday of this week, Mrs. Zaddie Bunker, chairman of the Palm Springs rationing board, reported that she had submitted a list of nominations for positions on the board to Fred E. Yerger, OPA area chief, in Los Angeles. From this list Mr. Yerger will appoint seven persons to the local board. There have been five on the board to date, but recently regulations were issued increasing the size of all local boards to twelve members.

At the same time, the local rationing board received instructions to name a voluntary committee whose purpose will be to acquaint merchants and others coming under the terms of the price fixing laws, with all provisions of the law regarding ceiling prices.

LLOYD SIMON CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Bunker this week completed organization of this committee, appointing Lloyd Simon as chairman. Other members of the committee and the territory for which they are responsible, are Mrs. Stanton R. Lewis, Palm Canyon drive from Tahquitz road to Amado; Mrs. Noble H. Curtis, and Mrs. Kenneth C. Guild, Palm Canyon drive and Indian avenue north of the school; El-

Injuries Received Five Years Ago Bar Colegate from Army

City Attorney Roy W. Colegate received notice from army headquarters Tuesday of this week that he was not qualified to join the army in any capacity following a check-up of the physical examination he took last August when he applied for active duty.

He has been a reserve officer for the past seven years.

As result of this notification, Mr. Colegate will remain as city attorney here.

Mr. Colegate was seriously injured in an automobile accident near Ontario on August 27, 1937. He was under hospital care for eight months after that accident in which he suffered many fractures.

Chief Lyle Sanard Makes Quick Work Disposing of Bookie

Harry Gaffin, 34, will face Judge O. K. Freeman in superior court at Riverside to receive sentence on a bookmaking count.

Gaffin was arrested Wednesday in his rooms here by Chief of Police Lyle J. Sanard on a charge of accepting bets on horse races.

Chief Sanard took Gaffin to Riverside that same morning and he appeared briefly before Judge Moore in justice court there and was bound over for the superior court.

That same afternoon he appeared before Judge Freeman and pleaded guilty to the charge, a felony.

Date for sentence was set for Monday, September 21.

COMING AND GOING—Changes in principals were made last week at Palm Springs high school and, shown above, are Dr. Ernest E. Oertel, left, the new principal, and Morris F. Richardson, who recently resigned to enter the U. S. armed forces.

Sharp Gains in Enrollment Recorded By Local Schools

Opening Day Figures at High School and Elementary School Larger Than Expected

Additional proof of greatly increased activity in Palm Springs was furnished this week in school enrollment figures from elementary schools and from Palm Springs high school. First day enrollment figures at the elementary schools were up 36 percent while at the high school enrollment at the end of the second day was more than 50 percent higher than anticipated.

The four schools in the Desert school district enrolled 361 students on Monday compared to 264 on the opening day in 1941. At the high school it had been estimated that there would be between 90 and 100 students on the opening day. Instead, there were 149.

STILL ENROLLING

At both schools additional students were entering daily and the figures were expected to be very much higher when schools open again next Monday after the first week-end recess of the term.

Miss Katherine Finchy, district superintendent of the elementary schools, gave out the following enrollment figures for the opening day this year and in 1941:

School	1941	1942
Frances Stevens	142	202
Nellie Coffman	63	86
Cathedral City	16	16
Cahuilla	38	57

TEACHER RETURNS

Miss Finchy also announced that Mrs. Laurence Sholz, the former Miss Geraldine Hayes, and widely known local school teacher, had returned to the district school staff and had been assigned the seventh grade class at the Nellie N. Coffman school which had not been filled the week before opening of school. Mrs. Wood Glover has also been assisting the elementary schools staff. Mrs. Sheldy, who had taught in the local schools prior to her marriage,

Palm Springs Aids War on Axis With Third of a Million

Palm Springs residents are buying War Savings Bonds at better than a $40,000-per-month pace, and since the first of the present year have put well over a third of a million dollars at the disposal of Uncle Sam for use in defeating the Axis.

Figures revealed by Bank of America officials and Postmaster R. M. Gorham this week showed that total sales of bonds between January 1 and September 14, 1942, amounted to $368,000.

Mrs. McCarn Named Acting City Manager

Appointment Made As Two Leaves Are Granted Employees

Mrs. Louise McCarn Wednesday night was appointed acting city manager of Palm Springs, when city councilmen granted the request of City Manager Arthur E. Bailey for a leave of absence during his service in the United States Marine Corps.

Mrs. McCarn's appointment became effective Thursday and will continue until November 30, subject to further extension on that date.

Two leaves of absence were granted city employees by the council Wednesday night. Jerry Sanborn, city superintendent of streets and assistant city engineer also filed application with the board.

FOR THE DURATION

Both Mr. Bailey's and Mr. Sanborn's leaves are for the duration of the war and 90 days thereafter.

When the applications were made, City Manager Bailey read the state law on leaves and also reported on activities of a committee which had been named September 4 to study what other cities were doing in this regard.

He outlined a discussion he had had with Louis Burke of the California League of Municipalities in which he had been informed that leaves were being granted city employees entering the service, by other cities and that one-third of these cities were also granting a month or a half month's pay to such employees.

RESOLUTIONS PREPARED

City Attorney Roy W. Colegate had prepared resolutions in blank to meet the contingency and these were read by City Attorney Robert Peterson.

On motion of Councilman Philip L. Boyd, Sanborn was granted a leave of absence and at the close of his service with the navy, he will return to his present position. His leave starts with the date that he is called to duty by the navy.

Councilman C. P. Adams moved the adoption of the resolution granting a leave of absence to City Manager Bailey and after the conclusion of his services with the marines, he will come back to Palm Springs to fill out his unexpired term.

BOTH UNANIMOUS

Both leaves were voted unanimously.

In his application, Mr. Bailey recommended the appointment of Mrs. McCarn, his assistant at the city hall, as acting city manager. He pointed out that she was thoroughly familiar with the workings of the office, was trustworthy, capable and knew the duties of the position.

All of the councilmen expressed their approval of the recommendation as the most suitable

If You're Eligible To Teach, Sign Up, School Head's Plea

A call was issued this week by Miss Katherine Finchy, district superintendent of the Desert school district, which includes Palm Springs, Cathedral City and vicinity, for all women here, married or single, who have teachers' credentials, to come to her office in the Frances S. Stevens school and register.

Due to the war emergency a shortage of teachers is making itself felt here as well as elsewhere. Miss Finchy is planning to build up a reserve list of teachers, either for full time work or for substitutes and believes there are many women here who can qualify. She is confident that many of the wives of military men now stationed in Palm Springs have teachers' credentials and urges them to register, too.

Small Brush Fire Does Little Damage

Palm Springs fire department was called out September 13 to subdue a small brush fire on State Highway No. 111 near the Smoke Tree ranch. Little damage was done and the blaze was kept to a small area. A carelessly tossed cigarette is believed to have been the cause.

City Board Turns Down Appeal for Palmistry Permit

If you want to take a peep in to the future, you won't be able to do so in Palm Springs.

City Council Wednesday night voted to deny a permit for a palmistry establishment which had been presented in the name of Madam Mary N. Miller.

Representatives of Madam Miller appeared earlier in the week and requested the permit from City Clerk Robert Peterson. They were informed by the clerk that the license fee would be $300 a quarter and that to go into the location which they sought they would have to get a resolution passed by city council declaring that the business of palm reading was no more objectionable than the specific businesses listed in the zoning ordinance for that area. A $300 check was deposited with the clerk and the resolution presented at Wednesday night's hearing.

Council after discussion whether the matter should be submitted to the planning commission first, decided to act immediately and the plea was voted down.

Mayor Frank V. Shannon asked Florian Boyd, member of the planning commission, whether that body would feel offended if the matter was taken out of their hands, and Mr. Boyd replied that, on the contrary, the council would receive the thanks of the planners.

Law to Regulate Photographers Is Passed by Council

Ordinance No. 120, prohibiting unlicensed photographers from snapping pictures in public places such as cafes, bars and the streets, was adopted by city council Wednesday night by unanimous record vote.

The measure provides that all persons seeking to take pictures in public places must first obtain a permit from the chief of police and abide by all rules and regulations laid down by him. A stiff penalty is provided for violations. The measure exempts established places of business.

After passage of the ordinance a protest was filed by a representative of a photographer but Mayor Frank Shannon declared that the council had voted and was in no mood to rescind its action.

May Train String Of Yearlings Here

City Council Wednesday night briefly discussed possibility of allowing "Tinky" Grimes to bring a string of yearling horses to the Field Club for training purposes with the understanding that the horses would be trained here only and not be hired out for saddle purposes in competition with established stables here.

Grimes plans to train these horses here and pay the city a stipulated rental per stall. He would improve the track at the grounds for training purposes and at the end of the training season, offered to present a show at the track, turning over all proceeds to charity.

Council decided to turn the proposition over to the city manager's office for investigation as to a means of additional revenue for the city and charities without interfering with local rental stables.

The Special Service Department planned the late afternoon swim, luncheon and dance which was attended by twenty members of the Hospital Nurse Corps and an equal number of Air Corps officers on maneuvers in the vicinity of Camp Rice. The event took place Wednesday, September ninth. The group began festivities with a swim in the hospital pool, moved to a downtown Palm Springs restaurant for dinner, and finally danced at the Del Tahquitz Hotel. Palm Springs Total Tax Rate for New Year Down 63 Cts.

Property owners in Palm Springs will pay a total tax, exclusive of special district levies, of $4.28 per $100 of assessed valuation for the 1942-1943 fiscal year. This represents a sharp drop from the $4.91 total rate levied during the 1941-1942 fiscal year.

The decrease is due to a 17-cent reduction in the total school rate and a 46-cent drop in the county rate. The city rate, third lowest in the county, remains unchanged at $1.00.

TOTAL RATE GIVEN

R. T. Hicks, county auditor, split up the 1942-1943 rate for Palm Springs as follows:

Elementary School	70
Elementary Bonds	03
Junior College	04
High School	60
High School Bonds	14
TOTAL SCHOOLS	1.51
Palm Springs City	1.00
County Tax Rate	1.76
Cemetery District	.01

OTHER LEVIES

In addition to the $4.28 rate, special district rates apply to portions of the territory within the city limits. There is a rate of 9 cents for Palm Springs Sanitary maintenance (a 3-cent drop from last year), 10 cents for Sanitary district bonds and interest, 4 cents for the Coachella Valley mosquito district and 38 cents for road district No. 16.

Last year's total school rate was $1.68 compared with $1.51 this year. A 10-cent drop in the elementary school rate and a 7-cent drop in the high school rate provided the reduction.

The county rate was $2.22 per $100 assessed valuation last year while for the coming fiscal year it will be $1.76, a decline of 46 cents.

Western Portion Of County Closed To Hunting Parties

Upon recommendation of the Fish and Game Commission and with the consent of Governor Culbert Olson, the state department of natural resources last week issued an order closing certain areas within the state to dove hunting as an added protection to game birds in the specified areas.

The closing of the areas had been requested by the commanding general, Western Defense command of the United States Army. The order is effective to and including the 15th day of January, 1943.

Palm Springs and the excellent hunting area in this vicinity is not included in the restricted area which takes in most of the San Geronimo Pass area and is described as follows:

All that portion of Riverside county lying west of the intersection of the Morongo Indian Reservation and the extension of that line with Highway 99 near Whitewater; thence all that area

Dr. Henry S. Reid Will Return Here Early In October

Word was received the fore part of this week from Dr. Henry S. Reid that he and Mrs. Reid will return to Palm Springs during the first week in October, at which time he will reopen his widely known Reid Clinic and Hospital at 648 North Palm Canyon Drive. Dr. and Mrs. Reid have been spending the summer at Estes Park, Colorado.

Enroute home from the Colorado resort, the Reids expect to visit with their son, Henry Jr., who is with the U. S. Army air corps at Perrin Field, Texas.

Dr. Reid spent a very busy summer in Colorado and hopes to gain a little rest between now and the time of his return here. While at Estes Park, Dr. Reid was elected president of the Summer Residents' association, succeeding Kremsler Stoward of Los Angeles. The organization has been very active at Estes Park for the past two years. He presided as master of ceremonies at the association's annual dinner dance at the Stanley hotel and was also judge at the Kangaroo Court which was a feature of the entertainment program. He was ably assisted by Lowell Slack of Palm Springs, who was bailiff of the court.

Just as in Palm Springs, Dr. Reid has an enviable reputation in Estes Park, numbering many prominent people from all over the nation among his patients.

Cathedral City

By W. R. HILLERY

This little community at Cathedral City is doing its full share of important defense work. It is work you are not paid for in money. Just the sure satisfaction that you are doing something the army is depending on us to do, and in such a way that our work permits each fighter plane to do what it would take sixteen planes to do without the aircraft warning system manned by civilians or by taking combat men away from combat training or service. The Oregon incident may be the feeler for further raids but the Japs know we have now a very efficient coastal area warning system and we confidently feel that whatever raids are in store for our country, through our help the war planes will give an excellent account of themselves.

Because of the ranchers, merchants, health seekers, housewives, students and retired people, and hard workers generally, we have been proud of our record that started at noon on December 7, 1941 and has continued to date. During that period there has been a constant watch for airplanes, day and night, heat and cold, twenty-four hours a day and seven days a week.

With the reopening of school and business we have had to double and treble our watches to make up for almost twenty-four that became vacant this week.

The load is too much for the few and volunteers are wanted. Adults or students, men and women. Don't wait for an invitation, but either call on Mr. Hillery or go directly to the post and choose a shift that you can most easily take.

It is our one paramount community war defense job.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rich and daughter, Miss Norma, returned from Riverside where their eldest daughter, Miss Georgia Rich, was married Sunday.

issue of The Desert Sun, returned to their Cathedral City home this week.

E. J. and Mrs. Wheeler, who operate the Totem Pole Cafe, and Aulin Camp in the High Sierras, are busy getting ready to open up their restaurant here.

Mrs. Ida Wheeler who spent the summer with the Wheelers is back and is getting her rental property in order.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chance, after a vacation in San Francisco, are back and in charge of their Desert View Court. Mrs. Ann Duncan looked after the Court during the absence of the Chances.

Max Vaucher and family, who were at Claremont during the summer, returned in time for Mr. Vaucher to resume his classes as a faculty member of the Palm Springs High School. The two young daughters of the Vauchers have again entered school.

Frank L. Harrington, pioneer and ace helper at the observation post, was indisposed for a couple of days this week but appears fully recovered now.

George Weigele and daughter, Miss Eda Weigele, are here for a prolonged vacation and are stopping at the Desert View.

Compliments are due Dudley Clark, manufacturer and rancher, and to Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Brandt, managers of the Blue Haven Court, for their cooperation in improving the efficiency of the airplane observers by hooding their lights at night at their respective places of business. The observers need total darkness at night to get the best results.

Lieut. Ray D. Renville and family have taken a Harvey Apartment. Lt. Renville is at Camp Young. Mrs. Renville has placed their three young daughters in school locally.

Last week we failed to note that the two young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bahrman, who have also stood watch at the post, had this week entered the Palm Springs High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen McMahan and young son have taken the C street cottage of the Kuehlbornes for the winter.

James Herra, wife and son have taken the Second street cottage of Hal Sausser for the season.

The John Bairtsches are occupying the C. L. Templeton cottage.

G. H. Hale, wife and infant child are in the Jack Dempster cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Jacobsen, who recently suffered a disastrous fire loss at which they were both injured, are home and fairly well recovered. Son Roald, who has spent his vacation at Idyllwild, is back in Palm Springs high school.

Mrs. Mary K. Yoder and daughter Mary returned in time for Miss Yoder to resume her studies at the high school. Mrs. Yoder was also a loser by fire in the early summer.

Which reminds us the petition to form a fire district is not being signed as rapidly as it should due to lack of someone to carry it around and contact the necessary number of resident taxpayers.

The new moon that is making the desert more brilliant each night inspired Mrs. Lucy Kuehlborn to pen this beautiful bit of verse:

The New Moon

When in the rose-blush of evening
I behold my loved mountains, my valleys,
And hear the soft sounds of the night birds,
All the small things that call to my rising,
My heart swells—I dream of my glorious tomorrow
When, aglow in my fullness I rule
The deep night, the desert, the valleys.

Report Homer King's Condition Improved

Mrs. Homer King called on her husband at Monrovia one day last week, and Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Chambers called on him over the weekend. They found him improved. He will have to remain in the hospital for some time.

Mr. King is the owner and operator of King's Drug Store and Fountain here.

Major Edwards and Family Return Here

Major and Mrs. Ben E. Edwards, Jr., and family arrived in Palm Springs Sunday to make their home here. They had been residing in Banning during the summer months but moved here for the opening of schools last Monday.

Major Edwards was advanced to his present rank in the army on August 27.

Alfred Knorr With Kaiser Co. At Richmond

Having been at Long Beach since he left Palm Springs last spring, Alfred Knorr is now employed at the Kaiser Shipyards at Richmond, California.

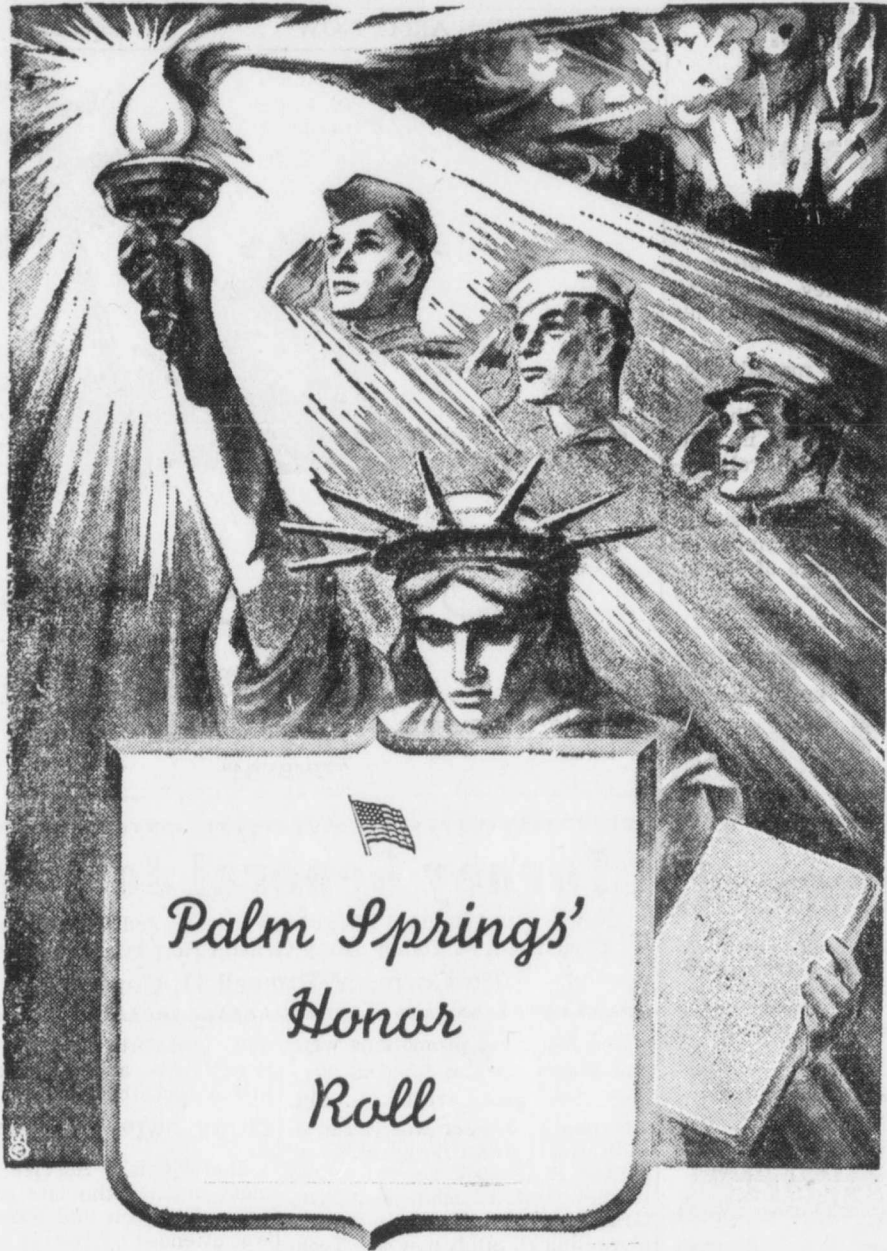

While here he was part owner of the Road-Runner and later sold his interest to Beth Stibbens.

Last Rites Said for Palm Springs Woman

Funeral services were held at Farrar's chapel in Indio last week for Mrs. J. A. Dixon of Palm Springs who succumbed after a long illness.

The Rev. Ernest M. Jeffery of the Indio Presbyterian church officiated.

Miss Ruth E. Thomas, Red Cross Field Director, Arrives at Torney Hospital

Miss Ruth Esther Thomas, field director for the American Red Cross, arrived this week at the Torney General Hospital to assume charge of the work of the Red Cross there. She will have her desk in the lobby of the hospital to carry on the activities of the organization.

Miss Thomas is from Alameda and just before coming to Torney Hospital was at the Letterman Hospital in San Francisco.

CHANGES ARE MADE

Several changes occurred at the army hospital this week. One of these was in the chapel in the lobby. The pulpit has been moved to the north end, providing a better setting for Sunday services.

Mass is said at the chapel at 8:30 a. m. each Sunday by Father C. N. Raley of Our Lady of Solitude Catholic church and Protestant services are conducted at 11 a. m.

PARTITIONS GO UP

Temporary partitions are being built in the south end of the lobby around the desks in the main office to insure more privacy and to facilitate the office work.

The officers mess has been moved to the east portion of what was the main dining room of the El Mirador hotel. Furniture from the El Mirador dining room is utilized. Other personnel of the hospital has been using the other portions of the dining room for the past two weeks.

Two Slightly Injured In Automobile Crash

Automobiles driven by Paul Allen of a Banning sanitarium and R. F. Graettinger, editor of The Desert Sun, were badly damaged in a collision at Banning Sunday night.

Graettinger had slowed to a stop for two soldiers in a pedestrian lane when his car was struck from the rear by Allen's car.

Both drivers were slightly injured. Both were alone in their cars.

The greatest known depth in the Atlantic Ocean is 30,246 feet, at a point north of Puerto Rico.

ian employees at the hospital have been added with "field" barber shops and washrooms set up.

The barber shop is a one-chair affair set up in a tent but equipped with everything found in a swank hotel shop. In fact, on the canvas wall of the tent there is a sign, "El Mirador Barber Shop."

At the other end of the row of temporary buildings is an open air wash-room where the men may wash and shave under field conditions.

DRILLS UNDER WAY

Daily drills are given officers and men of the medical detachment to fit them for any active duty which might be necessary.

Ward workers and guards are through with their drills in the court yards and are being prepared for field conditions.

Medical men are also given thorough army training.

One Dozen Voters Register Choice for Sanitary Board

An even dozen voters of the Palm Springs Sanitary district went to the polls Monday to register their choice in the matter of choosing two members of the district board. There are approximately 900 voters in the district.

The polls were open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m., 13 hours, and the voting was at the rate of less than a ballot an hour.

Harold J. Hicks and Thomas H. Lipps, present members of the board whose terms expire, were candidates for re-election and were unopposed. Hicks received 12 votes and Lipps 10.

Hold-over members of the board whose places were not at stake at this election are George Roberson, Clarence Hyde and Florian Boyd. With Hicks and Lipps they will constitute the Sanitary District Board for the ensuing term.

Election officials who served at Monday's election were Mabel Claire Allen, inspector, and Mary E. Frohn and Louise Burket, judges.

Balloting was at the Frances S. Stevens school.

U. S. O.

By RUTH SUMMERS

Today being Wednesday, I phoned Louisa Clark at Hospitality House to ask her if there was any special news. Louisa is executive hostess. She said, "Well, Dorothy Goldberg, wife of Lieut. Goldberg, surgeon at the Ferrying Command; Mrs. Overton, wife of Lieut. Terry Overton, and Mrs. Ernie Erickson, whose husband is inspector at Torney General Hospital, are washing dish towels."

The boys who recently arrived in Palm Springs still talk about the cordial welcome they received, and as winter progresses, they will realize more and more that the civilians of Palm Springs can express their gratitude by entertaining the enlisted men. (I hear it whispered that the officers are to be remembered too.)

TO PRODUCE PLAY

Corporal Russell Genich of Torney General Hospital wrote a play and submitted it to the USO play reading committee. The play reading committee chose it for presentation and Corporal Genich now finds himself working with director Fred M. DuBrutz of Torney General Hospital casting the play which feat is expected to be accomplished by Thursday evening when the rehearsals get under way, the date of production will be announced, and talented musicians will be sought out and cast in the entire act.

Music is featured in Corporal Genich's play which will not surprise his friends as Russell has proven himself a fine musician possessing a beautiful and well trained voice. The play is a light comedy, but a few serious moments link it with the problems confronting us today, which no true artist ever forgets in a creative work. (That is according to very proper critics.)

But the play is fun, worth producing, and I think will afford good entertainment. We are expecting DuBrutz to do an excellent job, as, in addition to being a sergeant in the army, he is an experienced theatrical man.

DANCING LESSONS

Between 6:30 and 7:30 every Thursday evening, novices in the art of the dance are to be instructed by accomplished USO hostesses at Hospitality House. With a good dance scheduled for Saturday night, the class is expected to be crowded. I think it was Jeano's idea, and of course Mrs. Hill sanctioned it.

In addition to the enlisted men from the desert area, the Ferrying Command, and Torney General Hospital, USO expects flying cadets from Blythe on Saturday night, to swell the number of partners for the girls of the Desert Detail. I believe they will add a little gaiety too; their lot

Gasoline Rationing Effect on Village Under Discussion

Gasoline rationing and its effect on Palm Springs provided a brisk conversational topic here this week. Possibility of increased rail service and the continuance of adequate bus and stage connection with the Palm Springs depot on the S. P. entered into the conjecture.

In the meantime, Office of Price Administration leaders in Los Angeles allayed fears that gasoline rationing would be immediate. Neil Petree, state OPA official, and Paul D'Orr, state rationing chief, issued a joint statement in Los Angeles this week declaring that gasoline rationing was still in the future.

WILL TAKE TIME

They declared that it will take much time to prepare gasoline coupon books, register motorists and formulate rules and regulations for the program.

Members of the Riverside county war price and rationing board expressed the belief over the weekend that gasoline rationing on the west coast would follow the pattern now prevalent in the eastern states where rationing has been in effect for some time.

THREE TYPES OF BOOKS

Passenger cars in the east are entitled to three different classes of rationing books, the first of which or A book contains a year's supply of coupons to provide 2880 miles of driving per year on the basis of four gallons to a coupon and the government's estimate of 15 miles per gallon.

Out of the 2880 miles, 1800 are for occupational driving and 1080 for family use. That allows 150 miles a month for business driving and 90 for family use.

The B book is for those whose occupational driving runs more than 1800 per month. Drivers who use these books must agree to share their cars. Drivers in essential industries who fall into 14 classifications, may go 470 miles a month and are issued C books quarterly. Coupon books in the A or B class are issued annually.

HELP IS OFFERED

Mrs. Bertha Carter, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said that the Southern Pacific railroad had been quick to recognize the influence of gasoline rationing on Palm Springs and had started plans, according to word received here, to further advertise Palm Springs and its accessibility by rail.

Travel bureaus are also providing much help along these lines, she said, in providing information to tourists on how they may come here most conveniently.

being somewhat different from that of the soldier in the armored forces, subjected to the hardening process on the desert.

The variety of character and personality found in the boys attending the USO dances renders each one unique and entertaining.

Jack Downey Now First Lieutenant In Army Air Corps

Jack Downey, assistant manager of the El Mirador hotel for many years, is now a first lieutenant in the U.S. Army Air Corps and stationed at Miami Beach, Florida, it was announced here this week.

After the El Mirador was acquired by the army for conversion into Torney General Hospital, Mr. Downey went to March Field in civilian employment as steward at the Officers' Club there. Shortly after, he enlisted in the air corps.

He hopes to return to California about October 10 to become club officer at the Officers' Club at March Field.

Mrs. Downey and her two children returned to Palm Springs last Sunday to open their home on Buena Vista drive.

Silenced

Winston Churchill is an old hand at squelching hecklers who try to disrupt his speeches. At one time, when the British Prime Minister was a young M.P., he was addressing a meeting outside London. One man repeatedly interrupted him to shout in a loud voice: "Liar! Liar!"

Churchill ignored these remarks the first few times but finally broke off his speech and said: "If the gentleman in the back of the hall who is so anxious to have his name known will write it down on a slip of paper and hand it to the chairman instead of shouting it at the top of his voice, he will save himself a lot of trouble."

The crowd laughed. There were no further interruptions.—Milwaukee Journal.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

When the American Expeditionary Force landed in Ireland recently newspapers reported the citizenry remarked at the similarity of the steel helmets worn by our boys with those worn by German troops. These steel hats are protection from shrapnel fragments and other light missiles. We need thousands of them for they are a regular issue to every American soldier.

A smart strap fastens under the chin and they are padded for comfort. One steel helmet costs $5 so every time you fill a $5 stamp book you are buying protection for an American soldier. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. Help your community reach its War Bond Quota.

Refugio Salazar Enters Not Guilty Plea In Minor Case

Refugio Salazar, owner of the Pioneer club, entered a plea of not guilty when he appeared before Judge Guy Pinney in local court today to face a charge of violation of that section of the state code which prohibits the employment of minors in establishments where liquor is sold.

The charge followed discovery by police, while investigating another case, that Eddie Turner, a minor, was employed as dish washer and errand boy, at the club.

Turner had filed a complaint against another man as result of a street argument, and it was then discovered that he was under age, and employed at the club. The charge against Salazar followed.

He was released under $100 bail pending his plea today.

Ralph Tharp Opens Pacific Barber Shop For Fifth Season

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tharp returned to Palm Springs Monday from Carmel, where they had spent most of the summer. During their stay there, where Mr. Tharp was employed, they took time off for a trip to Hastings, Neb., to visit Mr. Tharp's parents.

On Tuesday morning Mr. Tharp re-opened his Pacific Barber shop in the Pacific Building patio. This marks his fifth season in Palm Springs.

RETURN FROM SUMMER AT CEDAR GLEN

From a summer spent at Cedar Glen near Lake Arrowhead, Mrs. Bradstreet Miller and two children returned to their village home last weekend.

There's a Flaw in the Record

If it were not for one little flaw in the record, Palm Springs citizens could feel gratified that, with realty and rentals providing one of the Village's major industries, only four cases of attempted profiteering in this business have been called to the attention of city officials by military authorities.

The flaw in the record is that these four cases are just four cases too many.

With Palm Springs filling up rapidly and more still to come, there is admittedly a strong temptation to make hay while the sun shines or, to put it more bluntly, get while the getting is good.

The very few who might succumb to this urge forget that there is always a tomorrow. A very few would be their victims, but this handful would protest so loudly and so long about the "gouge" that they would drown out the praise of the hundreds who had been treated fairly.

When California began to fill up with soldiers from all over the nation last December, merchants in some cities yielded to the urge to charge all they could get. These same cities are now having a hard time living down this reputation. The soldier boys learned quickly. Their frank "I'll never go there any more" about cities which overcharged and their "When this war is over I'm coming here to live" about the cities which treated them fairly, tells the whole story simply.

Sharp practices now may mean a temporary profit but will undoubtedly hurt in the future. They might hurt right now if military authorities decided to "crack down."

Eat, Drink and Be Merry, for Tomorrow

Just around the corner looms a day which may be of high importance to all of us, those who can take or leave it alone, or those who just leave it alone. On November 1, distilleries in the United States will stop making hard liquor. They will go into the business of manufacturing alcohol for use in synthetic rubber, for munition needs and for other war purposes.

The drinkers of hard liquor will have to rely on the stock already manufactured and in storage. There's a difference of opinion about how much of this is available. Some say there is a five-year supply awaiting the thirsty ones. Others have had pencils busy on paper and come up with statistics showing that there is only a two-year stock on hand.

Now, most guesses on the length of the war put peace more than two years away. So it looks as if there'll be a dry period again for the United States. And this time, drinking of distilled beverages will really stop.

Prohibition failed because so many people resented the law. They patronized the bootleggers because of this resentment. But this time it will be more than prohibition. People will know that the product offered for sale by the bootleggers is illicitly made, heaven only knows from what ingredients. They will also know that any apparatus used in the making of it could have been applied better to the war effort. They will know the reason they have to depend on beer and wine for the glass that cheers is because of the need to lick Hitler as quickly and as thoroughly as possible. So they won't buy.

The next dry era will find the bootlegger unpopular. He will be going contrary to the nation's needs. It looks as if prohibition, without benefit of amendment, but backed by patriotism, will be really effective, when and if it comes. Last time, by unpopular law, it was impossible.

Driving Is a Matter of Patriotism, Too

Here's a new angle to consider if you are one of those people who believe the speed law is for the other fellow—you are exempt. If you drive as you used to, taking chances, breaking the traffic rules if you do not happen to see a white car or motorcycle around, you are unpatriotic. That's putting it bluntly, but it's true.

Take the human angle first. Our doctors and nurses are needed for the war effort. If the accident you have as a result of carelessness or wilful disregard of the safety laws, is serious enough to send you to the hospital, you are selfishly and unneedfully, taking the time of a doctor or nurse who really hasn't the time to spare. There is a shortage of doctors and nurses, you know. Also you are using medicines and material needed by the armed forces. If it's a really serious case, you

The World's Richest Man Found It Didn't Pay

By ROBERT RIPLEY

Ashurbanipal of Assyria, the richest man who ever lived, was worth a trillion and a half dollars—75 times as much gold as is held in the United States Treasury. Yet it availed him nothing! Neither he nor his son had the sense to use this wealth for the good of their people or for their protection.

And so it was comparatively easy for Nabopolassar and the King of the Medes to invade Assyria and enslave it. And finally, when defeat stared the great King in the face—when it was too late—Ashurbanipal, in terror, had a tremendous platform built of polished wood, in the city of Nineveh, and on top of this he heaped all of his wealth—142,000 tons of gold in 2,500,000 bricks (or ingots), each brick 7 by 28 inches in size, and each brick valued at 50,000 dollars. This treasure formed a pyramid of shining gold nearly one-hundred feet high, and in the intervening spaces he placed all of his jewels and personal belongings—his wives on golden beds—his children—even his pet dog.

And then a great quantity of oil was brought from Mosul and poured on top of this golden mass, and when the torch was applied the King himself walked in and laid himself down among the wives—his family—his pet dog—and everything he valued in life. And so the great Ashurbanipal, the richest man in the world, was consumed in his own wealth—he immolated himself and became part of this great conglomerated melted mass of money—and so ended the Empire of the Assyrians. And it never rose again.

I was in Nineveh a few years ago. Only a few mounds marked the spot that was the glory of Ashurbanipal.

Why? Because Ashurbanipal, who had practically all the money in the world, didn't do anything with it! And he and his country were lost.

Even his conquerors—the Medes and the Persians—made this same mistake—they came, saw, conquered, and confiscated this great golden molten mass of money that was once the king's and the wealth of the great Empire of Assyria—what did they do with it? Nothing!

They melted it into money again—and remelted it—and in generations since it has been remelted a thousand times—until, Believe it or Not, it is a mathematical fact that every golden coin used in the world today contains in it some minute particle of Ashurbanipal himself, the King who had all the money in the world but didn't know what to do with it!

What are we going to do with our money today? Enemies threaten us the same as they threatened Ashurbanipal in 626 B. C. The United States of today, like the Assyria of Ashurbanipal, is the richest nation in the World. What will it avail us?

Surely nothing more than it did Ashurbanipal unless we do something with it. And there is only one thing to do—and that is to Buy Bonds and War Stamps and make our money directly available to our country—otherwise it will become a molten mass and we the people will be destroyed as Ashurbanipal was destroyed 2600 years ago.

will take the time of three nurses and, of course, more material.

Then there is the matter of rationing and priorities. Suppose you are too lazy to signal, or you cut over from the wrong lane, or try to steal the right of way? You've done it 99 times without dire result. The 100th time you crack-up. What are you going to do for new tires, new fenders, other new parts? You can't get them. You'll walk. It will serve you right. But how about the other fellow? His job and livelihood may depend on his car. He won't be able to get replacements, new tires, either. Your insurance won't help him there.

These traffic laws aren't just the ideas of some old grannies who want to take the joy out of life. They are on the books because of careful study. Traffic experts have found that the various little things required by law can and will prevent accidents and that the other numerous little bad habits which are banned by law and which may seem too trivial to you, are the cause of accidents. Learn the traffic rules. Some of them may seem silly. But they are on the books for a purpose. Get in the habit of obeying them. You'll find that you've cut the cost of operating your car, you'll be reserving the doctors, the nurses and the medical supplies for the soldiers and defense workers who really need them and you will be doing your part in this war in another way. Besides, you'll be patriotic.

BLACKOUT

The term is descriptive of what is happening in the world today.

Blackout means much more than doing without artificial light. It is a symbol of the gradual destruction of human advancement. It means the breaking up of families, the death of millions of innocent people, the destruction of a free education and religious system. It is the forerunner of a type of government that makes slaves of all the people it touches.

Blackout symbolizes the end of civilization as we have known it. It is an ominous word. In a country like ours, imagination cannot conceive of the terror that follows in its wake. Blackout is the forerunner of a new type of enemy invasion that wherever successful, actually does black out, or wipe out individual identity, opportunity, savings, family relations—for the children become mere pawns of the state—freedom of speech, freedom of worship, private enterprise—everything that symbolizes America.

The fact that large sections of this nation are now living under dim-out and blackout regulations is a warning—an ominous shadow of what we face if we do not crush the forces that have caused almost a total blackout of the rest of the world.

There would be little labor trouble, or production trouble, or politics-as-usual if the people could visualize what blackout means. It's mere shadow should be enough to cement this nation into one irresistible unit of opposition.

"I Rise to Remark"

By SENATOR JOHN PHILLIPS

The columnist this week turns interviewer. "We have with us today" one of the most distinguished Americans; writer, statesman, student of the Bible, political prophet, and one-time president of the United States. His name is Thomas Jefferson.

He is also credited with being the father of the Democratic party. I rise hastily to remark that the expression, "It is a wise father that knows his own child," was used by Shakespeare as long ago as 1597. It did not originate therefore with this particular relationship.

Mr. Jefferson, when interviewed, was seated upon the porch of a cloud resembling his old home at Monticello.

"I am," said Mr. Jefferson, "for preserving to the States the powers not yielded by them to the Union, and I am not for transferring all the powers of the States to the general government, and all those of that government to the executive branch. I am for a government rigorously frugal and simple, applying all the possible savings of the public revenue to the discharge of the national debt." I realize however that "the natural progress of things is for liberty to yield and government to gain ground."

"The will of the people is the only legitimate foundation of any government, and to protect its free expression should be our first object," but I am sorry to say that it has been my observation that "timid men prefer the calm of despotism to the boisterous sea of liberty." "In every government on earth is some trace of human weakness," and I have always been afraid that some time the world would permit what it would then call dictatorship, or centralization, or national socialism, to creep up upon it, but "I am satisfied that the good sense of the people is the strongest army our government can ever have, and that it will not fail them."

"The will of the people," continued Mr. Jefferson, "is the only legitimate foundation of any government." I cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that the "government is the strongest of which every man feels himself a part." We must never lose the self-reliance and independence which are so characteristic of the United States, but, he added, "it is necessary, to give as well as to take, in a government like ours."

And then, looking ahead, to some of the substitutes for frugality and economy and sanity in government which might be proposed he added, "capital may be produced by industry and accumulated by economy, but only jugglers will propose to create it by legerdemain tricks and papers."

I think too, said Mr. Jefferson, that "we have more machinery of government than is necessary; too many parasites living on the labor of the industrious."

I am amused however, he added, when I think that some years ago I said, "the executive in our government is not the sole, it is scarcely the principal object of my jealousy. The tyranny of the legislatures is the most formidable dread at present and will be for many years. That of the executive will come in its turn, but it will be at a remote period." Perhaps the principal object of the executive is here now. I think though that the voters will remember that they are represented through the congress.

He sat up suddenly and exclaimed, "My God! How little do my countrymen know what precious blessings they are in possession of, and which no other people on earth enjoy." But he added, with every evidence of confidence, "with all the imperfections of our present government, it is without comparison the best existing, or that ever did exist."

I rise to remark that the only comment which may properly be made upon this conclusion is to say "Amen."

Bill Gibbs Passes Coast Guard Tests, Is Called for Duty

Bill Gibbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson O. Gibbs of the Tahquitz Pharmacy, has passed the physical tests and has been sworn in as a member of the Coast Guard, it was announced this week.

He goes to Los Angeles next Tuesday to report for duty.

He spent the summer months in Yellowstone National park at the Canyon hotel.

A graduate of Palm Springs high school, he is widely known here. Last year he assisted his father in the latter's drug store.

Sharp Drop Noted In Traffic Toll On County Roads

Curtainment of traffic and slower driving because of war conditions had a salutary effect on the county's traffic casualty record the first six months of 1942, a report from the state department of motor vehicles revealed this week.

In the first six months of 1941, 53 persons were killed and 559 injured on county highways because of traffic crack-ups. For the first six months of 1942, the death toll dropped to 45, and the injured total to an even 400.

Both of these trends were noted in state figures. In the first half of 1941, state-wide auto deaths totaled 1532, and injuries, 31,840. In the corresponding period in 1942, deaths totaled 1400 and injuries 26,302.

MORE GAINS EXPECTED

There, too, enrollment figures were expected to expand sharply during the first week and a re-check this evening was expected to show a large gain over opening day.

After the first day's preliminaries, classes settled down into routine quickly. Because of the larger enrollment than anticipated, new classes had to be formed in Freshman typing, mechanical drawing and English I.

The originally planned classes were filled to the limit on opening day.

Maybe You Don't Care, But Summer Is on Last Legs

If it is of any interest to Palm Springs residents—

There are only two days remaining of this summer.

On September 21, summer will come to an end and autumn arrive.

At that, it's been the busiest summer in the history of Palm Springs and the approaching autumn bears indication of being the busiest fall in the history of the Village.

Holcomb Accepted By Navy, Awaiting Call Into Service

Ellis Holcomb, Palm Springs plumbing contractor for many years, and commander of the local American Legion Post, is eager to find out what World War No. 2 is like.

A veteran of World War No. 1, he volunteered for navy construction work overseas, and has passed all of the required tests.

He is now awaiting notification from the navy and time when he will report for duty.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. French and the latter's father, Dr. Walter Scott Rudisell, were in Palm Springs this week preparing their home here for a return for the season. They have been spending the summer in Los Angeles, making that the headquarters for many trips. Following another brief stay in Los Angeles, they will return here within two weeks to remain for the season.

HIGH-JINKS

By JOHN OUTCAULT

School days again and with the opening day, last Monday, Sept. 14, came many new Freshmen, who showed many possibilities of being outstanding students. As for the upper-classmen, they too saw many new faces added to their classes.

As most of you have read in the local paper, Mr. Morris F. Richardson, our recent principal, who since the start of the high school four years ago has been our principal, recently enlisted in the United States Navy and won't be able to be with us this year. The school board of trustees just two weeks ago chose a man who, to their knowledge, would fill Mr. Richardson's vacancy capably. This man is Dr. Ernest Oertel, former district superintendent of the Placer Union High School and Junior College district at Auburn, California. Dr. Oertel was chosen from twenty other candidates trying for the position.

Dr. Oertel started in with his new position by having a faculty meeting last Thursday. Monday morning the students assembled in the Auditorium and were introduced to Dr. Oertel by Mr. Richardson, who as yet has not gone on duty. Our new principal spoke to us for a few moments on our courses and our class advisors to-be.

GRID SQUAD OUT

The football squad has gotten off to a good start this year. Coach Glover, of the high school, started practice last Monday afternoon and is organizing his team and planning plays for the coming football season. Many of our outstanding players graduated last year, but from the looks of our new lineup the vacancies will be filled and we're all hoping for a season as successful as the last.

In our league this year we have Coachella, Beaumont and Banning to compete against. But this year, due to the shortage of tires, we are unable to use our school busses. So quite a number of the boys who have private cars are willing to conserve on gasoline and tires during the week so they can take the team to the games on the weekends.

There probably soon will be adopted a more suitable way of transportation.

RETURNS TO VILLAGE

Leo Paquette returned the latter part of last week from a summer spent in Canada and has reopened his Valley Garage for the season. It is located at the corner of Indian avenue and Amado road.

BAILEY EN ROUTE

The resolution naming her acting manager, fixed the time of the appointment from September 17 to November 30, with further extensions as needed. The salary was fixed at $200 monthly.

Mr. Bailey left at 9:00 o'clock Thursday morning for Phoenix, where he will undergo a final examination by Marine Corps physicians and expected to leave tonight (Friday) by train for the Marine base at Quantico, Va.

Will Establish Guayule Nursery In This County

Major Evan W. Kelley, director of the guayule rubber project in the state, announced this week word had been received from Washington that the Budget Bureau had approved the expansion of the project, providing for the planting of two new nurseries of 500 acres each. One of these will be located on the Colorado desert near Indio, and the other near Oceanside. Together with the nursery at Salinas, they will provide seedlings for 99,000 acres to be planted the spring of 1943 and harvested the fall of 1944.

This acreage will produce an estimated 50,000 tons of pure rubber. Sufficient seed is now on hand to produce 100,000 to 200,000 tons of pure rubber in 1945. This is badly needed to mix with synthetic rubbers.

The project will require thousands of acres of land. Good rent is paid for the land and farmers cooperating will be greatly helping in the war effort.

PURCHASING OFFICERS: WILDLIFE WORKERS NEEDED FOR FEDERAL SERVICE

Purchasing officers are being sought by the United States Civil Service Commission for many administrative posts throughout the United States and abroad. Salaries range from $2,000 to $4,600 a year. Purchasing officers will prepare specifications for the purchase of government supplies, and invitations to bid, and must keep abreast of current information with respect to market trends, fluctuations and sources of supply as well as laws and regulations pertaining to federal procurement.

The Civil Service Commission announces also, examinations for Refuge Managers and Refuge Aids, appointments to be made to the Bureau of Fish and Wildlife, Department of the Interior. Manager positions will pay from $2,000 to $2,600 a year; aids will receive from $1,200 to $1,440 a year. All openings are in national wildlife refuges scattered throughout the United States. Closing date to file for these positions is October 19, 1942. All applications must be sent to the Washington office of the Civil Service Commission. Full information as to the requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from Postmaster R. M. Gorham, at the Palm Springs post office.

related. . . . But they met at a Palm Springs gas pump.

PHONEY PHONETICS—

"How come you spell your name 'PHAT' and what does it mean," asked a curious reader this week. (Yes, I seem to have them). Well, it all happened years ago, too many years ago when I weighed 230 pounds and was really fat. . . . and my nickname was "Fat". . . . That sounded too commonplace. I was conducting a short column even then which was in the days before there were many columns, and I titled it: "PHAT'S PHOOLISH AND PHILOSOPHICAL PHACTS AND PHANCIES PHOR PHEEBLE PHOLK." . . . Yes, I was a cub then. . . . After I graduated and got a little more sense I quit it but the name and the spelling stuck. It's been "Phat" ever since.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE—

"My, what a remarkable spirit of restraint you have developed. It must be the desert air." That was my welcome this week-end. . . . I was pleased. It makes a fellow feel good to think he is making progress in the art of curbing his vocabulary. Then: "You've written two columns at Palm Springs and not a mention of Oscar." . . . If I'm going to be here long—and I hope so—you'll hear about Oscar eventually, and it might as well be now. . . . Oscar is a wire-haired terrier with all of that breed's ability to locate, and get into, trouble. . . . He was 11 years old the other day. They say that one year in a dog's life is equivalent to seven in a man's. So, by human standards, Oscar is 77. . . . Show me the man, who on his 77th birthday could get into four dogfights, chase three cats, drag a hamburger, with a lighted candle on it, under the couch and almost start a fire, and tip over one of those standing ash trays, laden with pipes and tobacco. Oscar did all of that on his 11th birthday. . . . And I wish I could get off as easily when I spill pipe ashes on the rug.

EN ROUTE—Just a few thoughts while rolling down the hill toward Palm Springs on U. S. 99: There are still too many drivers who believe the law requiring them to drop their lights to the lower beam when meeting another car, has been repealed. . . . Not so many soldiers along the road tonight. And what soldiers there are are getting choosier. If you're not going through to their destination, they'll wait for another car. Indio seemed to be the main point. . . . Maybe drivers should put placards on their windshields indicating their destination such as: PALM SPRINGS, BANNING, INDIO, THROUGH CAR, and so on. . . . Some soldiers say too many people would display this sign: "TAKE FOLLOWING CAR". . . . Half of the drivers you meet haven't heard of holding it to 40 miles per. . . . A lot of them seem to think that the highway marker signs, such as 60, 70 or 99, are speed limit signs. . . . It doesn't look as if the rubber shortage had curtailed driving much. Not on Sunday nights, anyway.

ECONOMIC DEPT.—An article on thrift recently revealed that if you put away five dollars a day at six percent, at the end of fifty years you'll have $475,208. . . . That's nice. . . . If I thought I was going to live for fifty years more and would feel like spending $475,208 then, I'd do that if I knew where I could get six percent interest, providing I had the five dollars to put away each day. . . . The federal government is going deeper into the hole daily but it's certainly making money. Notice all of the shiny new pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters you get nowadays? Still, they

Illinois Girl Weds Army Captain Here At Military Wedding

Culminating a romance of army life, Miss Barbara Laird of Rockford, Illinois, became the bride of Captain Spencer M. Crump of Hollywood at the Bigelow estate on Monday evening, September 14.

The beautiful estate had been made even more beautiful for the ceremony which was read by Chaplain Hayes at 8:00 o'clock.

Miss Lois Loreen Bailey was the bridesmaid, and Lieut. Jack acted as best man. Col. Strader gave the bride away.

Captain and Mrs. Perry Bailey of the Fifth Field hospital at Camp Young, sponsored the wedding, and guests numbered officers from the camp and other military posts.

Mrs. Crump is a graduate of Rockford College for Women at Rockford, Ill., while Captain Crump is a graduate of U.S.C. at Los Angeles and the Army and Navy military academy. He is an oral surgeon and attached to the Fifth Field hospital, Dental Corps.

It was at Camp Grant, near Rockford, where Captain Crump met Miss Laird and the friendship formed there developed into the romance which led to the ceremonies here Monday.

Following the smart military wedding, Captain and Mrs. Crump departed on a honeymoon tour for an unannounced destination.

say there's a shortage of nickels. A Palm Springs merchant, feeling facetious at the conclusion of a sale involving an eight-cent article, said: "These are three for a quarter today, Madam." And was he surprised when she snapped up that bargain!

WAR DEPT.—

Army camouflage experts have designed and built hundreds of pasteboard tanks. They look as terrifying as the real thing. . . . The theory is that when Heinie or Tojo sees a flock of these bearing down on him, he'll move guns and men to meet the threat, thus exposing the real objective of the attack for real tanks. . . . Why use real tanks for feint purposes, ask army experts. . . . How's the enemy going to know which are deadly and which are fakes? . . . Soldiers in the dummy tanks are really non-combatants. They'll wear only sidearms. But when they've accomplished their purpose, the pasteboard tanks, mounted on Peeps, can run from danger. . . . That looks like another American-made headache for Heinie and Tojo. . . . There's another resort in California. It's Pebble Beach on the Colorado river, near Needles. . . . But don't rush to make reservations. The place is exclusively for soldiers who wish to dunk themselves after a hot day spent in war games on the nearby desert.

ODDS AND ENDS—(I'm not going to apologize for using that heading. I used it a long time before Bill Henry did). They say they had quite a time finding a parachute with harness big enough to fit Policeman Jim Maynard when he went up in a plane early in the week. . . . Walter Z. Allen put on a nice clean fresh shirt one noon this week and two hours later, accidentally decorated it with a nice big ink spot. But he didn't go home with that spot showing. A little water, some brisk rubbing and the hot sun did the trick. . . . When asked if he had a laundry

NAVY SAYS SEND CHRISTMAS GIFTS TO MEN ABROAD BEFORE NOVEMBER 1 GIVE LONG LIST OF INSTRUCTIONS

If you want to insure the best possible Christmas for your husband, son, sweetheart or friend in the Navy or Marine Corps abroad, mail that package or card between October 1 and November 1, and the sooner the better, the public relations office of the Eleventh Naval District, advises in a list of instructions governing the sending of Christmas mail to men in the service.

Carelessness in choosing gifts or in packaging and mailing them, and failure to mail early enough, they warned, may mean little Yuletide cheer for the nation's gallant fighting men.

Special efforts will be made to deliver parcels labeled "Christmas Parcel" in time for Christmas, it was announced.

As for selection of gifts, the navy recommended that articles be easily portable and useful in any climate. In this category are toilet kits, watches, notebooks, pipes, wallets, pens or pencils and photographs.

Electrical apparatus is of doubtful value and perishable matter should be avoided because necessary delay in handling under par conditions often causes such gifts to arrive in deteriorated condition. Clothing should not be sent unless it has been specifically requested.

Postal regulations prohibit the sending of intoxicants, inflammable materials, including matches of all kinds and lighter fluids, and poisons or compositions which may kill or injure another.

Because of the urgent need of shipping space for war materials, the size of Christmas parcels should not exceed that of an ordinary shoe box, and should not weigh over six pounds.

Parcels should be packed in substantial boxes or containers and should be covered with strong wrappings. Delay will be avoided if packages are not sealed, but are tied or secured so as to be readily opened for censoring. Sealed packages of cigars, tobacco and toilet articles in simplest mercantile form, however, may be enclosed within packages.

Contents of packages should be packed tightly to avoid damage in transit, while sharp instruments such as knives and razors should have their edges protected.

Care In Addressing

Parcels for naval personnel abroad should show, in addition to the name and address of the sender, the name, rank or rating of the addressee and the naval license, he pointed out he had a real estate license which causes some people not only to be lauded but to even lose their shirts.

unit or ship to which he is assigned.

In no case, however, should the location of the unit or ship be mentioned, as it might reveal military information.

Only two post office addresses should be used, depending upon which is nearer the man addressed. They are: c/o Postmaster, New York, and c/o Postmaster, San Francisco. Local addresses may be used only in addressing men within the continental limits of the United States.

Inscriptions such as "Merry Christmas," "Do not open until Christmas," may be placed on the covering if they do not interfere with the address.

Postage must be fully prepaid. Books are acceptable at the rate of 3 cents a pound.

Money orders should always be used as at many places abroad there are local prohibitions against the importation of United States money.

Tuberculosis Ass'n. Prepares for Sale Of Christmas Seals

Riverside County Health and Tuberculosis Association are busy preparing 4,500,000 Christmas Seals for distribution. The 1942 Christmas Seal is unusually attractive and was designed by Dale Nichols, one of America's outstanding artists and true to his style, is a snowy country scene with a red barn in the background—the famous red barn immortalized by Mr. Nichols. The patriotic motif is suggested in the red, white and blue color scheme of the seals.

The Danger

Oscar Levant, the musical answer man, in his younger days often played hooky from his piano lessons. At one time, when he had skipped several lessons, his mother thought it high time to give him a good talking to. "Don't worry, mom," said Oscar, at that time a quiz kid without a program, "music runs in our family."

"I know that," replied Mrs. Levant, "but the way you're practicing it's likely to run out again." —Des Moines Register.

H. Holt Hartford Files Application For Sports Center

Application of H. Holt Hartford for a permit to construct and operate a miniature golf course a short distance south of the city offices at 482 North Palm Canyon Drive, was referred to the planning commission when it was read before city council Wednesday night.

Mr. Hartford cited that the golf course with its landscaping would tend to beautify the spot and that the place would provide entertainment for all classes and that it would be a benefit to the city. Besides miniature golf, he also plans badminton courts, ping pong tables, and a putting green.

With the Boys

In the Service

No matter how busy the boys in the armed forces are they always find time to write to village friends. Bob and Barbara Moore (Barbara McKinney) write to The Desert Sun this week from Pensacola, Florida, as follows: When you're busy studying, flying, and listening to lectures 16 or 17 hours a day, even a few minutes are hard to find. Otherwise Bob would have written to thank you for the much appreciated Desert Sun long before this. He is right up at the top of his class and will graduate with the first of them the last of this month. We are hoping for transfer to the West Coast, although it is only chance. We both want to thank you for your very generous kindness in sending The Sun so promptly and thoughtfully. I'm sure it is a bright spot in all the service men's time away from home.

In town visiting friends over the weekend was Sgt. Henry Campbell, who was on a 15-day furlough. He has been in the Army for almost a year now, and is the head of the classification department at Sheppard Field, Texas.

While here, he was connected with the Western Union for a number of years. On a number of occasions he has had a chance to talk to Ernest Hinckley, former villager, who is also stationed at Sheppard Field.

Lieut. J. A. Klickman was recently transferred to the U. S. Navy Aircraft Delivery Unit at Port Columbus, Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. Klickman is residing at Columbus to be near him. He is Coach Klickman, formerly connected with Palm Springs high school.

Pvt. Elmer G. Sisk is now with the Army Medical Detachment at Seattle, Washington. He will be greatly missed this season, having been with the Palm Springs Date Market for a number of years.

Army Vehicles Can 'Take It' Report Of Officials After Desert Maneuvers

Following completion of the second problem of U. S. Army desert maneuvers east of Palm Springs, a Blue force critique found that the ability of vehicles to "take it" in the rough desert terrain has reached a new high, according to an announcement from Director Headquarters today.

Operating on maneuver problems over blistered fields covered with huge boulders, over craggy hills covered with jagged, burnt rock, trucks, tanks, jeeps and half-tracks were found to have a greater speed and efficiency than originally was thought possible by the experts.

UNEQUALLED OBSTACLES

The second problem found the Blue force charged with the mission of driving Red units from their defensive positions at Needles and either completely destroying them or pushing them back beyond the Colorado river. They faced terrain obstacles unequalled in maneuver studies heretofore.

Employing thousands of vehicles in their simulated attack, they made forced day and night marches through passes not used since stray Indians trod them in the desert emergencies. Despite sand which, varying in consistency, gives no firm base, and confronted with big and little hills whose silhouettes look like the magnified edge of a worn razor blade, they moved through ragged, rock-jutted little passes and canyons to their objective.

TORTUOUS PUNISHMENT

During the march of the Blue units, all vehicles were subjected to the most tortuous type of punishment and came through with flying colors.

It was the confirmed opinion of observers that the mechanical genius of America had more than founded itself in fact with the present series of gruelling tests that terrain and climate now is giving them in this desert.

Dr. C. W. Pritchard Succumbs Suddenly Result Heart Attack

Palm Springs suffered a severe loss this month when Dr. Clare W. Pritchard, widely known Springs veterinarian, was suddenly stricken by death.

Friends here were still awaiting details of the tragic circumstances. So far as learned here, Dr. Pritchard was the victim of a heart attack and succumbed in the presence of his wife and daughter, Sandy, aged 7.

Dr. Pritchard was noted for his kindness to animals. For many years he conducted an animal hospital here and pet lovers will deeply miss him this season.

second class, is now at the U. S. Naval Hospital at Treasure Island near San Francisco.

Cadet Jacques Simon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Simon, writes from the Santa Ana Army Air Base. His letter follows:

"In the last nine months I have received copies of The Desert Sun in New York, Alabama, Florida, and now California. One certainly does a lot of moving while in the air forces, and to have your home town paper follow you around as much as The Desert Sun has is really a fine thing. Feel you are doing a grand thing for the boys away from home, and am sure they will appreciate it, as I do.

"Life in the air is fine, especially that as a bombardier. There really is no place like the air, not even Palm Springs, and that is saying a lot. Again many thanks for your past courtesies."

Mrs. Frona Gill received word last week that her son, P.F.C. Richard F. Gill, arrived safely overseas. P.F.C. Gill has made Palm Springs his home for the past five years. He is a cook, having worked at the Chi-Chi, Claridge's, and several other places. He is with the U. S. Marines.

Wilmington Man Takes Over Park For Trailers Here

G. W. Dindore, recently from Wilmington, has taken over the Orchard Trailer Park at 1862 South Palm Canyon drive, and is busy bringing the place into first class shape.

The big apricot trees provide plenty of shade in the months that shade is welcome and permit plenty of sunshine to filter through in the winter months.

The cabins on the site are being renovated and also being brought into tip-top shape.

Mr. and Mrs. Dindore have been coming to Palm Springs for the past five winters as visitors. Now they will make their home here.

John Chaffey Enjoys Long Delayed Vacation

John R. E. Chaffey, Chamber of Commerce secretary, is at Encinitas in the middle of a two-week vacation period following a busy summer session here.

Mr. Chaffey left last weekend to join Mrs. Chaffey and their three children who have been spending the summer months at the resort near San Diego.

Mrs. Chaffey was in Palm Springs Wednesday for a brief business visit.

Raise in Pay Scale For Waste Disposal Workers Is Voted

Charles Burket, waste disposal superintendent, Wednesday night presented to city council a picture of personnel difficulties in his department due to the lack of available workmen and the high salaries paid in private industries.

He declared that there was a shortage of experienced men for his department and asked city council to authorize a $10 raise in the monthly wage of two efficient men he now has available.

The work of his crews has more than doubled in the past year, he pointed out. Councilman C. P. Adams remarked that he had observed the crews at work and believed they really did the job in a thorough manner.

Council granted Mr. Burket's request and voted the $10 raise.

Desert Furniture Shop to Open in New, Larger Home

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Waskow arrived in Palm Springs Thursday from Las Vegas where they have spent the summer and prepared their Desert Furniture and Carpet shop for its re-opening next week in a new and larger location in the Plaza, in the store rooms formerly occupied by Potter's Hardware store.

They announced that this season they will open another Desert Furniture and Carpet shop at Las Vegas. Mrs. Waskow will manage the Palm Springs shop and Mr. Waskow will be in charge of the Nevada store. Mrs. Waskow will be assisted at the local store by Jean Fridley, a widely known interior decorator who will assist Palm Springs residents in the selection of furniture for their homes.

This will mark the Waskows' ninth season in Palm Springs. Each year the business has expanded and this year larger quarters became imperative. In their new Plaza location they will have the room to display the largest stock of home furnishings they have ever had on hand. They spent the summer in a buying campaign for their stores and feel confident this year will find them well supplied to meet all needs.

RETURNS FOR SEASON

Mrs. R. D. Carman, who has been spending the summer months at Banning, returned to Palm Springs Monday of this week and has reopened her home at 318 Via Altamira.

Street Vendor: "Yes, gentlemen, these razor blades represent the greatest value I've ever had at the price. They are an excellent bargain as you can see for yourselves, and they are guaranteed to last until they're worn out."

Of Course Not

The children were playing in Mrs. Smith's driveway. Suddenly she heard a crashing of a window pane. She hurried out to find only little Mary Jane, the others had run away.

Mrs. S.: "Mary Jane, please tell me who broke this window." Mary Jane: "I didn't do it, and I'm not going to tell on Billy."

Washington says you will have to pace living to slower and less efficient service. Manpower and materials will go first to war and what's left will try to meet civilian needs. Don't expect your dry cleaner to give "this afternoon" delivery. He must conserve tires. Laundries may drop "week-end discounts" for washing picked up on special days. But customers who bring their own wash to the pickup points must be accorded the discounts as usual, says OPA.

Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau has declared that he wants to continue his war financing program without the use of forced loans as long as it is possible.

As long as the American people are willing to supply the necessary funds on a voluntary war bond and stamp basis, he would like to continue to operate that way at least for the rest of 1942.

The increased role that women factory workers are playing in California war goods production is shown by the 53% gain in female wage earners. The increase in aircraft plants alone is 80%.

Cheese is on the official "eat hearty" list. Current production of one billion pounds yearly roars along at a level 50% above last years.

Dried eggs will be an important food commodity in post-war America. Born of Allied hunger and lack of shipping space, the egg-drying industry is booming. Production was 10 million pounds in 1940; today it is over 200 million pounds annually.

The cleverest chemists in the United States, the national capital earns, can't make a synthetic cocoa. Cocoa, which is the basis of chocolate, is one of the more complicated "chemicals." Research scientists don't even understand its basic molecular structure.

Thus with the shipping shortage resulting in dwindling supplies of cocoa from Africa and Brazil, there is no home-made substitute. Luckily for housewives, however, there is a time-tested alternate for butter, which has reached a 12-year high in price. Vitaminized margarine, containing 9000 units of vitamin A per pound, is being widely used as a spread upon bread and likewise for baking, frying and cooking in general, especially as a sauce-seasoning over hot vegetables.

Manufacturers of hair-pins and bobby pins will be permitted by WPB to continue to September 15 at the same rate as has been in effect since April 25—50% of the 1941 production.

OPA polled the girls working in Washington offices to find out what cosmetics were "dearest to the hearts of American women." Lipstick and face powder won, with rouge, cold cream, deodorants a close second and mascara, wave-sets, face packs and hair dyes low on the list.

Government experts fear a shortage in leather and there may be rationing before next year, due to the huge amount of this product now being used for lend-lease and the military. Department of Agriculture researchers say that the life of leather can be greatly lengthened by the timely application of dressings containing suitable oils and greases. Forward-looking homemakers are laying in a supply of paste and liquid shoe polishes to give the family's shoes the old shinola, both to maintain that natty appearance and to preserve the leathers. The same good forward thinking can be applied to handbags, luggage, belts and leather accessories of all kinds.

Because soaps are made largely from coconut oils, now difficult to obtain, Dr. Lawrence Fleet of Buffalo, thinks they will be largely displaced, possibly for good, by super-detergents made from petroleum. Before the American Chemical Society he reported that the new petroleum soaps wash in acid or alkaline solutions, in fact better in hard than in soft waters. They also impart mothproof and germ killing qualities.

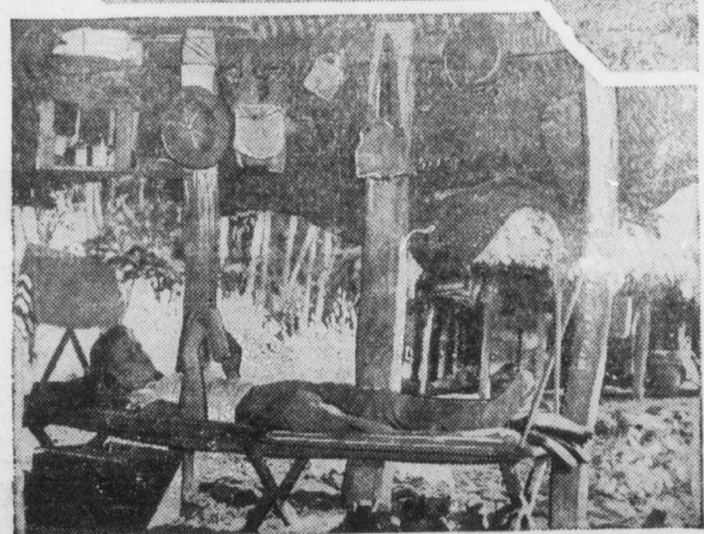

Last winter a shortage of paints threatened, but price ceilings stomped the trend. To maintain output the manufacturers have developed alternates which also help to solve the scarcity. Some new paints dry more slowly, some colors aren't as bright, but consumers can get paint if they want it.

Loss of Revenues Due to Emergency Before Supervisors

The problem which Riverside and other California counties must face in loss of revenue, by taxes from properties taken over for war-time use by the federal government and thus removed from the tax-rolls is being made the subject of a survey by the state supervisors' association.

This report was brought back from a session of the county sessions, attended at Sacramento last Friday by Supervisors Walter V. Pittman of Riverside, Floyd E. Gilmore of Hemet and R. E. Dillon of Beaumont.

SITUATION UNDER STUDY

The supervisors reported at the regular session of the board this week. They stated that a special committee is to be named to look into the conflicting phases of the situation.

According to figures presented at the Sacramento session by the Riverside county delegates, approximately 1.3 per cent of the total valuation of Riverside county property has been taken off the tax rolls by reason of army camps, centers, hospitals and other federal projects currently needed by the government in this area.

DISCUSS ROAD CLOSURE

In connection with army projects, the board was asked to vacate certain dedicated highways in the desert sections of the county, to expedite construction. The request came from the Riverside Project office of the War Department, Division of Engineers. It was stated by a spokesman, in reply to questions put by the board members, that in such cases as closing of a highway leaves the public without access to certain areas, the government must provide a relocation of such roads.

Little Relief Ahead In Tire Situation, Officials Declare

Very few tires are available for Southern California according to Riverside county war price and rationing board officials.

Word from Los Angeles is to the effect that no relief can be promised in the near future because very little rubber is available for tires.

Palm Springs was allotted only two No. 1 tires and two No. 2 tires, four retreads and four tubes for passenger automobiles and four tires, four tubes and four retreads for trucks, in September.

Return of Woodward makes two expert watchmakers now on duty at Worden's store.

Worden remained open all summer this year to serve his customers. He is starting his ninth winter season this week.

During the summer months he did considerable buying and as a result has a full line of Hamilton, Elgin and Waltham watches on display.

Suggest Guard Take Over Air Raid Protection Service

A plan of much interest in Palm Springs and Cathedral City, whereby the air observation posts may be manned by members of the California State Guard, rather than by the volunteer civilians now working on the 24-hour watch of the skies over Riverside county, was tentatively discussed by the county supervisors at their session this week.

Supervisor Ed Hill, who broached the subject, sought action by the board, but agreed that the matter should be deferred until after the Southern California Supervisors meeting of September 26 at San Diego, when it is to be one of the features of the program.

All members of the board were outspoken in their realization of the importance of the proper maintenance of the air observation posts.

Col. W. A. McCord, head of the county defense council, who was present at the board meeting, stated that in his opinion, "the state guard couldn't perform any more important duty" than to man the observation posts. "This is the most important part of the civilian defense," McCord declared, "requiring faithful 24-hour duty. We have had wonderful responses from civilians, and in some instances people have worked many shifts overtime to keep the stations open when for some unavoidable reason their relief observers failed to arrive."

54,864 Persons Enter California Via Blythe Station

According to report of R. W. Campbell, 54,864 persons entered California through the Blythe gateway during August. The report was made by Campbell, senior quarantine inspector, to the state bureau of entomology and plant quarantine.

Of this number Palm Springs drew many of the tourists.

The 54,864 figure does not include those who came into the state as locals (habitual commuters) and in commercial trucks.

The Blythe border station counted 11,370 cars other than locals, trucks and stages. Of this number, the 4465 California licensed cars brought in 14,803 persons, and the 4905 foreign licensed cars brought in 23,116 persons.

The 516 stages brought in 17,445 passengers. In addition, there were 1753 California commercial trucks and 419 foreign (out-of-state) commercial trucks. Locals totaled 782 California cars and 443 foreign cars.

David Baxter Will Face Sedition Case In Washington, D.C.

David Baxter, former Twentynine Palms editor and publisher, Tuesday this week, was denied a writ in which he sought to avoid his return to Washington to face trial on a grand jury indictment which charges him and 27 others with sedition.

Federal Judge Ralph Jenney denied the writ in Los Angeles. Baxter, who obtained a five-day extension of time, said he would make application for a similar writ in the circuit court of appeals.

Baxter, who came to Palm Springs often while he was publishing his newspaper in Twentynine Palms, was caustically denounced by Walter Winchell last spring over a nationwide broadcast. At that time he was residing in San Bernardino. He defied a federal grand jury in Washington on April 16, and was threatened with contempt proceedings for refusing to answer a question.

According to U.S. Attorney General William Power Maloney, Baxter at that time admitted writing pamphlets for the Social Republic Society of America advising members to keep on hand a fresh supply of ammunition.

Treatment of the mentally ill by electric shock is being practiced with great success by California state mental hospitals.

Youngsters under 17 have not much longer to roam the streets of Palm Springs between the hours of 9:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. unless accompanied by their parents or guardians, running a bona fide errand or going to or from their work.

An ordinance establishing a curfew here for children under 17 after 9:00 p.m. and before 6:00 a.m., was unanimously adopted by city council Wednesday night.

Severe penalties are provided for the children if they are out between the forbidden hours, and for parents who fail to observe the law's provisions.

Roller Rink Opens For Season Sunday At The Field Club

Palm Springs Bowl Roller Skating rink will officially open for its second season Sunday night at the Field Club, fully prepared to uphold its reputation as "Southern California's most beautiful smaller rink."

Unofficially, the rink was opened Wednesday night to a large crowd and the attendance has been high the other nights since the unofficial opening.

Margaret Anderson, hostess and operator of the rink, said that it had been put in tip-top shape for the season, with the floor newly sanded and other preparations in keeping. The rink has been newly decorated and Chicago skates are used altogether. Recordings of organ music by Eddie Dowell of the Culver City rink, especially cut for roller rinks, have been received and are and will be used exclusively. The public address system has been brought up to first-class performance. There is always plenty of parking space available.

Mrs. Anderson announced that every Monday night will be Ladies' Night at the rink with special instruction being offered them.

The floor is under the capable management of Robert Gray.
